Fast-paced, tactical and intelligent chess. Simple, intuitive controls and the most fun I have had playing chess since chess legend Bobby Fischer. Change your view mode for the blocks and attacks by clicking on the red button (as usual: right to left for horizontal view and down for vertical). Current version: 0.4.1 Release date: February, 26th, 2017 Windows/Mac supported Added a toolbar to the menus with your chosen view mode and your list of currently used "floors". There you can select from a preset view modes, or you can drag and drop your new mode on to the toolbar. This is useful in case you edit your mode list by placing an empty spot, then add floors when choosing your mode. The first floor in your mode list should be set to the default view mode, because your first floor determines what is currently shown in the editor. When selecting the next floor in your mode list, previously selected floors will disappear from the editor and the first floor of the new view mode is loaded. You can switch the view mode without changing the floor list by double-clicking the mode list entry. When you are in a mode list that has no pre-selected floor, the toolbar won't be visible, but you can drag and drop the mode list to the toolbars, if you want it to be visible. Fixed a bug where clicking on empty blocks in the ruler was ignored. Added a "log out" dialog. Added a performance warning in the top-right corner of the window. Added an option to let the editor redraw faster. Added shortcuts to the editor in the upper-left corner of the window. Fixed a bug with editor controls in VS, that sometimes weren't recognized in release builds. Fixed a bug in VS where you couldn't type in the editor controls. Fixed a bug where loading a saved game didn't reset the editor state. With 10.2 you can import your own music in the editor's in-game audio. Just copy the music file to the game files directory. This is not the easy way to import your own music, but only if you don't have that Music.ini file yet. You'll be asked if you want to copy the music file to the game directory. And then the music can be played by clicking the music buttons (on mouse-wheel) or by pressing Alt-B and the down arrow key to cycle through your
