However, the transition doesn't work, and the animation works perfectly. Why is that? The code is written in this fiddle. What I have: `div { position: absolute; top: 50%; left: 50%; -webkit-transition: width 2s; -webkit-transform: translateX(-50%) translateY(-50%); -moz-transition: width 2s; -moz-transform: translateX(-50%) translateY(-50%); -o-transition: width 2s; -o-transform: translateX(-50%) translateY(-50%); transition: width 2s; width: 200px; height: 100px; background-color: #ff0000; z-index: 1; }` A: You are using transition and transition property, that makes no sense here (see transition property). The property name becomes the property name when an animation begins. So it becomes width instead of transition, as you are using transition, change it to width: `div { position: absolute; top: 50%; left: 50%; -webkit-transition: width 2s; width: 200px; height: 100px; background-color: #ff0000; z-index: 1; }` WORKING DEMO a subprime developer, and a number of other investors, including ANZ Bank and Westpac.
