Stories & features eucalyptus.org Earn your extra euro with a free european travel card You may read in the newspapers about the launch of a campaign by the European Commission to build a new Europe. You may read that it is about strengthening the competitiveness of the European economy, and that we want to boost the competitiveness of the economy, because that is what promotes the prosperity in our countries, and that is what people need. But you may not know that there are 14 million people unemployed in Europe, and maybe you want a new job, a new job, so you think about what you can do: how can you build a new Europe? We know that sometimes it is difficult to have a stable job, but we also know that it is worth it, because it allows us to raise our children, and to build a secure future. It is worth it, because it is a noble challenge, as we want to build our future in an Europe that is strong. So, what can you do? A European mobility card. It is useful to know what a european travel card is, because it is a card for you to take your hard earned euros and travel to a European Union country. Let's imagine a company that has to move from Netherlands to Spain. You have to explain him your situation, and you find that the company wants an employee that can work for four months in Spain, because it is cheaper to pay an employee in Spain than in the Netherlands. You need to go to Spain to have a contract, and now you have a problem because you only have euros. But you are lucky, because there is this european travel card, that is part of the European budget, that will be useful to you, and here we are, explaining it to you. For every euro you spend on your european travel card, you will receive a benefit, if you follow some rules. The rules If the total spent in a currency is above 190 euros, you will receive an extra benefit. If the total spent in a currency is below 190 euros, the following benefit is reduced (so it is better to go with less euros). If you apply on the date that is the day of departure, you will receive an extra benefit. If you apply a day later, you will receive a benefit of the next day. If you apply more than three months before your departure 6d1f23a050
